A WORD FROM THE DOCKMASTER

Yes, this is turning out to be a hot Florida summer! I am sure you have noticed that your air conditioning and other equipment is working hard to keep your boat as cool as possible. You have probably also noticed an increase in your electric bill. When the air outside is hot and humid, the water temperatures rise too. Thus, the equipment on board has an uphill battle to regulate the interior temperature of your boat.

One thing you can do to ensure efficient performance of your air conditioning equipment is to clean your water intakes and sea strainers. If growth on the intakes and strainers accumulates, your systems have to work even harder to cool you off! This shortens the lifespan of the equipment AND uses more electricity (and costs you more money). Let me know if I can be of any assistance to you! - John
